

Wine & Spirits

91 | Andis

2016 Amador County Akuna Block Grenache

From a head-trained, south-facing parcel of grenache planted in 1978, this pretty red is light and translucent, scented with strawberries and bitter chocolate. The plush middle is juicy and fresh, with a lean, bony energy that calls for smoked pork.

Reviewed by Patrick J. Comiskey.

